Young At Art Museum Presents Lots of Dots
An Immersive Exploration of Creativity, Connection, and Community
January 17 – May 11, 2025

Davie, FL — Young At Art Museum (YAA) is thrilled to announce Lots of Dots, an interactive exhibit opening January 17, 2025, and running through May 11, 2025. Inspired by the iconic works of Yayoi Kusama—YAA Co-Founder Mindy Shrago’s favorite artist—and the beloved children’s book The Dot by Peter H. Reynolds, Lots of Dots invites visitors of all ages to transform a pristine white room into a vibrant canvas of self-expression, creativity, and connection.

As part of this immersive experience, museum-goers will use colorful dots to collaborate in transforming a blank space into a vivid masterpiece, reinforcing the message that art is for everyone and that creativity connects us all. The exhibit aligns perfectly with YAA’s mission to make art accessible, while also celebrating Kusama’s legacy as a trailblazing artist who embraced inclusivity and community in her work.

“At Young At Art, we believe that everyone is an artist and that art is a powerful way to bring people together,” said Traci Leon, CEO of Young At Art Museum. “This belief is at the heart of Lots of Dots, where creativity and community collaboration come to life.”

In addition, Lots of Dots is proud to participate in the Xavier Riddle Scavenger Hunt: Passport to Broward, in connection with the Museum of Discovery and Science (MODS)’ latest traveling exhibit, Xavier Riddle and the Secret Museum: The Exhibit, open January 17 through May 11, 2025. Based on the acclaimed children’s book series Ordinary People Change the World authored by South Florida resident Brad Meltzer and award-winning letterer and illustrator Chris Eliopoulos, the scavenger hunt encourages families to explore local cultural institutions through a fun, educational adventure.

At YAA, visitors can learn about Kusama's brilliance through the Lots of Dots exhibit and find the Xavier Riddle standee to complete YAA as a passport stop. Guests bringing their Xavier Riddle passport or bookmark will receive a buy-one-get-one (BOGO) admission to YAA, and explorers who visit YAA as one of four scavenger hunt sites will win a special prize to be redeemed at MODS' Explore Store! Learn more at mods.org/xavierpassport.

Whether contributing your unique dots to an ever-evolving artistic space or embarking on a community-wide cultural scavenger hunt, Lots of Dots is a joyful reminder that creativity and collaboration can connect us all in extraordinary ways.
